

The School for International Education at Ca' Foscari University of Venice is pleased to announce the upcoming edition of our Winter School in Italian Language and Culture, which will take place from 26 January to 6 February 2026.

Venice offers an ideal setting for a Winter School focused on both the Italian language and the city's rich cultural heritage. Its compact, walkable nature allows students to fully immerse themselves in Venetian life, interact with the local community, and experience the authentic atmosphere of this historic city.

This two-week program includes:

- 30 hours of Italian language classes for complete beginners, held in the mornings at the School for International Education's premises in Palazzina Briati.
- 5 hours of cultural activities, taking place on selected afternoons, including guided walking tours and visits to sites of historical and artistic significance.

These activities are designed to bring Italian traditions and cultural legacy to life, enriching the students' language learning experience through direct engagement with the city's unique context.

Applications open on 6 October and close on 21 November 2025.

Students can apply via the following link:
